SUDANESE CRIME STATISTICS

"Sudanese in Victoria are 44 times more likely than average to break the law."

"Despite making up 0.16% of the total population of the state of Victoria, Sudanese-born offenders made up 7% of individuals charged in home invasions, 6% of those in car theft offenses and 14% of individuals charged with aggravated robbery offenses in 2016."

"The 2011 [Australian] census recorded 19,369 people born in Sudan."

Sudanese in Australia are 94 times more likely to commit armed robbery than a native [white] Australian.